The 2018 Croquet By The Bay Tournament began with a great social at Carl and Mary Johnson's house. The food was delicious and company superb. It proved to be a delightful evening event. Saturday evening there was a Chesapeake Bay seafood dinner at the Coves at Wilton Creek Clubhouse. The setting was relaxing, the food extremely tasty, and the atmosphere filled with croquet stories.

The tournament was dominated by three players, one in each flight. Zac Watson won all his matches in Championship Flight by double figures. His play was outstanding throughout the tournament. Rodney Lassiter finished second.

In 1st Flight, Conor Johnson won all his matches, some highly contested. The final match was won by a single wicket on the last turn. It was exciting to watch. John Priest, his friend and constant opponent, was second.

Tim Williams powered through 2nd Flight. He had no close games. As a result, the director requested he be moved to a 9. Patricia Cunnington came in second, winning a trophy with a metal blue crab on top. This was very special to her as it was her first croquet trophy.

The Middle Peninsula Croquet Club was blessed with sunny weather except for one short shower, and the tropical storms stayed well south.
